

My Mouth is a Volcano

Louis is told by his mother to bite down hard and not let his words come out. She suggests he take a deep breath and push his words out through his nose. Then, when it is his turn to talk, take a deep breath and breathe them back into his mouth so he can say them. Practice taking deep breaths and fill in each shape when you take one.

